NAVAL PRIZE LAW.

INTERNATIONAL APPEAL COURT.

BRITISH BILL INTRODUCED.

LONDON, July 11. A bill has been introduced into the House of Commons on the lines of the recommendations of the committee provided for by Lord Gorell, and appointed to consider the International Prize Court of Appeal, established by a convention of the second Hague Conference.

The bill adapts British prize court procedure to the requirements of the International Court of Appeal.

At present an appeal now lies to the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council, in other words, to the King in Council; but inasmuch as it is impossible to permit an appeal from the decision of the International Court of Appeal, the bill substitutes for the present appeal a Supreme Prize Court composed of special members of the Judicial Committee of the Privy Council.

THE PIRATE'S INCIDENT.

HARBOR MASTERS' APOLOGY.

ROMANIA SATISFIED.

LONDON, July 11. The harbour masters at the Piraeus, Greece, have apologized to the captain of the Greek steamer "Mammet," who was allowed to crowd Greek waters to invade the vessel while lying in the harbour four weeks ago, and have handed to the captain the despatch which was taken out of the vessel on that occasion.

The incident, which caused a trifling relation between Greece and Romania, is now regarded as closed.

DUKE'S NARROW ESCAPE.

HYDROPLANE CAPTIVES.

LONDON, July 10. The Duke of Westminster, while hydroplaning today at Cowes at a speed of 30 knots, turned sharply.

A strong tide caught the hydroplane, which capsized, and sank.

All four occupants were rescued.

The escape of the Duke of Westminster was sensational. His launch was some distance behind the hydroplane when the latter capsized.

Mr. Robinson, who represented the motor company which built the hydroplane, and two mechanics aboard the vessel, clung to the overturned craft, but the Duke of Westminster, struggling under the weight of a big machine, drifted seawards away from the hydroplane. He sank once, and Mr. Robinson, noticing his distress, left the overturned vessel, and swam to his assistance, but just when Robinson was nearing him the Duke sank again.

The Duke was pulled to the surface, and both were taken aboard the launch. The Duke was unconscious, and only after artificial respiration had been tried for some time did he recover. He returned to London not much worse for his thrilling and narrow escape.

The letter refers to the districts in Bolivia, which were flourishing under the guidance of the Jesuits, but which are now depopulated. Men are earning a livelihood by enclosing villages, killing adults, and selling children to rubber plantations for 400 pesos (£80) apiece.

LONDON, July 11. Owing to the shortage of crops in Canada the Northern Pacific Railway Company is discharging 3000 of its employees. Copious rains have fallen in the middle west of the United States, greatly to the benefit of the wheat crop.

The Winnipeg correspondent of the "Daily Mail" reports that there are 8,500,000 acres under wheat for grain in Western Canada. Those in touch with crop conditions estimate a yield in Western Canada of 100,000,000 bushels. There has been little rain in the past week, and conditions may become worse.

"Course grains promise a better yield than wheat."

The average yield of wheat per acre in Canada is 20 bushels, as the yield in Western Canada, which is now estimated for the present season at 12 bushels an acre, will be 12 bushels below the average.
